

Maximilian Heinemeyer · 1st

Chief Product Officer at Darktrace

September 28, 2022, Maximilian managed Christian directly

I've worked with Chris on various projects at the intersection of technology & the business. Chris was always a pleasure to work with - friendly, professional, speedy, spot-on in his replies and reliable. A strong communicator.

I've provided Chris with various requirements for projects we worked on together. He was outstanding in his ability to clarify & track down requirements that sometimes quickly changed due to moving business priorities. Chris also delivered reliably under pressure when deadlines approached without sacrificing the quality of his work. He was great at acting as the bridge between the business & the cyber / tech domain.

In non-business speak: Chris is a great talent. Anyone can be happy to have him in his team.